

Panel 1, wide shot) View of a city, lots of tall buildings and cars. Posters of a hero named Solaris are plastered on a few of the buildings (Solaris has a very muscular, stereotypical superhero appearance). Posters say things like “Thank you Solaris”, and “Solaris, our light.”
Dialogue: Square bubble (Narration), “We were once a city that praised heroes.”

Panel 2, wide shot) Same city view, except the buildings are destroyed, there are fewer cars. The shading is darker, and the weather is cloudy and gloomy. There is vandalism all over the posters, saying things like “We hate heroes” and “So lies” (instead of solaris)
Dialogue: Square bubble, (Narration), “but now they’ve become corrupt, using their power for their own gain with no regard to anyone else.”

Panel 3, wide shot) Panel of MC, she appears to have medium length hair, tight fit clothing, lots of pockets, and she’s holding a grappling hook. She stands on the rooftop of a building, overlooking the city. Her expression is serious.
Dialogue: Square bubble (Narration), “and I’m going to stop bastards like that.”

Panel 4: Solaris is flying in the air, far away. His cape is torn, his face is covered, his whole outfit is dark, and he emits an aura. The background is the same torn cityscape, with people hiding in fear.

Panel 5: Zoomed in on Solaris’s face. He has a scary and cocky expression. His hair is flat and messy. He looks like a villainous version of his stereotypical hero form shown in the first panel.

Panel 6: Solaris appears to be dodging in the air. Full body shot. There’s an object in the corner emitting smoke.

Panel 7: Panel is covered in smoke.

Panel 8: Face closeup of the MC on the same rooftop, she has a determined expression on her face, her hands still gripping her grappling hook.
Dialogue, round bubble: “You think you’re so high and mighty just cuz you got some flashy powers, huh?”

Panel 9: Solaris stands on a rooftop, light smoke across his body. He has an angry expression. His fists are up, ready to fight.
Dialogue, round bubble: “You think some smoke is gonna get rid of me? I’ll kill you.”

Panel 10: MC appears to run on the rooftop. There’s blasts of energy right behind her. Her expression is still determined.
Dialogue, round bubble: “I’d like to see you try.”

Panel 11: MC swings across buildings using her grappling hooks. A blast of energy right behind her, breaking the building, she's smirking.

Panel 12: Panel of the building that he hit, there's a large hole where the blast hit.

Panel 13: Solaris is fuming, preparing to attack, he is still flying in the air.

Panel 14: A hook whizzes past him, he dodges.

Dialogue, round bubble: "You missed."

Panel 15: MC standing on a rooftop, her arms raised as two grappling hooks shot out. She's determined and serious.

Panel 16: Solaris flying in the air, the two grappling hooks beside him, neither touching him. He's smiling.

Dialogue, round bubble: "Missed again?"

Panel 17: The hooks beside Solaris snap together magnetically, trapping him midair. His expression is pissed.

Dialogue, round bubble, MC: "Think again."

Panel 18: MC is pulling the hero in towards her, yelling at him. Solaris struggles against her hooks.

Dialogue, round bubble, MC: "This building is about to collapse, because of you."

Panel 19: Wide shot of the city, civilians crying, and running. The roads are cracked, debris everywhere.

Dialogue, round bubble, MC: "You were supposed to protect them, you're no better than the villains you punished. You were supposed to be a hero."

Panel 20: Solaris's face changes to a pained expression, he's shocked. His glowing aura fades. The hooks on him loosen, and he falls to his knees. The word hero is echoed around him.

Panel 21: MC's arm reached out. Her gloves are in more detail, covered in dirt, her hand is angled downwards.

Dialogue, round bubble, MC: "It's not too late."

Panel 22: Solaris's hand holds hers, his hand is angled upwards.

Dialogue, Solaris, "Thank you, for not giving up on me."
